6 comedy grads to take stage in San Juan

2012-07-13 12:01:31

San Juan Capistrano's Camino Real Playhouse will host a show July 20 spotlighting six aspiring comedians who graduated recently from Students of Stand-up, a comedy course run by professional comedian Tom Riehl.

The performers are Sky North, Kyle Peterson, Harris Smith, Seth Sultan, Andy Torok and Walt Stevens, a holdover from the most recent Students of Stand-up show in May. Riehl will be the emcee, and professional comic Vince Harper will close the evening.

The show starts at 8 p.m. at 31776 El Camino Real. Tickets are $10 and are available online here. For more information, call 949-489-8082.

During the six-week comedy clinic at the playhouse, students learn basic joke-writing skills, stage technique and how to handle stage fright and hecklers.

Riehl, a Mission Viejo resident, began his comedy career 18 years ago and was a winner on ABC-TV's "America's Funniest People" and host of the cooking show "Food Rules." He also was named Best Clean Comic at the 2010 Eagle Rock Comedy Festival in Los Angeles.
